

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The Nylon cover replaces the use of hair bonnets, scarves, wraps, doo-rags and other items used and believed to protect the hair while sleeping. Because it is silky smooth in texture, and acts as a barrier, it puts an end to hair-line erosion, hair breakage, loss of natural hair oils and moisture, lost of most hair styles, the deep elastic impression marks around the head, bow knot indentions on the forehead, sides and back of the head, hair roller indentions, scalp sensitivity and soreness, the increased risk of poor blood circulation and headaches. It protects fabric surfaces from soil, stains, facial makeup and hair coloring. The Nylon cover is used by placing it over an item's surface which allows free, unbound movement of the head and the hair.

To the Commissioners of Patents and Trademarks:

Your Petitioner, Josephine Logan Ferguson, a citizen of the United States and a resident of Alexandria, VA, prays that a patent my be granted for the purpose and use of a cover to protect the hair, pillows, bed pillows, pillowcases and all types of fabric surfaces from damage, as set forth in the following specification. The claimed cover using a specific fabric, namely Nylon, will protect the hair, all types of fabric surfaces, pillows, bed pillow and pillowcase from damage, soil, stains, facial makeup and hair coloring because it act as a barrier.
